Office: MA 106

Office Hours: 12:30-1:30pm for Tuesday, Thursday, and 4:00 to 5:00 on Friday, and by appointment

Required Materials

The recitation sections will use the same textbook that is used for lecture. You may be allowed to use a scientific calculator and/or formula sheet on some quizzes.

Recitation Activities

As stated in the lecture syllabus, recitation activities will contribute to a student's overall final grade for the course. These activities may be quizzes, group work, etc. We will do something worth points every time we meet, so attendance is highly encouraged. In addition to these activities, we will work through homework problems and examples that will complement the topics covered in lecture. Please review the homework and lecture notes before recitation and come prepared with questions. No make-ups will be allowed on quizzes or other graded recitation activities. Your two lowest recitation scores will be dropped at the end of the semester

Additional Policies

Please see the main lecture syllabus for policies on accommodations for disabilities, email etiquette, academic conduct, university recording policy, equal opportunity, title 9, and academic dishonesty.
